

Local School Information as of 9 September 2005

According to Mrs. Carolyn Hamilton, Superintendent of the Long Beach School District, all Harrison County Schools are attempting to re-open between 3 and 15 October 2005. She is basing her information on discussions with all school superintendents within the Harrison County area.

The Ocean Springs School district has set a tentative date of 26 September for starting classes.

Hancock County Schools are schedules to start back up on 30 September.

No information was available for the remainder of the schools in Jackson County.

The start date for all schools is tentative at this time, based upon the status of any evacuees that each individual school may be housing.

Have not received any information on any of the local private schools.

University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Par is closed until 1 October 2005.
